Peterson Hit By Suit in Deal Over Tractor

The relief home tractor, object of a tug-of-war between County Executive Frederick Peterson and the board of supervisors, Monday caused a court suit in which Peterson is accused of exceeding his authority.

The suit, naming Peterson defendant, was filed in superior court by the Peterson Tractor and Equipment Co. of Hayward.

The equipment firm charged that on Mar. 1, 1945, it delivered to the county and to Peterson a tractor, according to an agreement by which the county would pay $63 a month rent. The rental could be used as part of the purchase price.

Only two payments were made, and the tractor company's complaint states that on Feb. 25, 1946, the board of supervisors notified the company that the county had no further use for the equipment.

Peterson, who then was acting as both executive and purchasing agent, refused to return the tractor.

In refusing, Peterson was "acting outside the course and scope of his authority as county executive and purchasing agent," the complaint stated.

Peterson's stand on the tractor situation is that the machinery has more than paid for itself in the value of vegetables raised at the relief home.

The tractor firm is seeking an order for the return of the tractor, or for a judgment for $650.

Traffic Signal Plan Before Safety Group

A study of traffic signals will top business before the Redwood City Traffic and Safety Commission tonight at its meeting in the city hall.

Col. John Skeggs of the state highway department has written the commission, explaining that the state intends to install a stop and go sign at Bayshore Hwy. and Chestnut St. this fiscal year but has not additional signal plans for this year.

It will be the last commission session before the terms of Chmn. Paul Whaley and Comsr. Benjamin Leese expire. Whaley said he would be unable to attend the last session and that James Flynn would take his place for the night.

Now comes the time of year when everybody loves a fat man —when he's dressed like Santa.

'Y' to Hear New York Executive

Dr. James L. Cullenwood, executive secretary of the New York State YMCAs and an industrial arbitrator, will be guest speaker at the annual meeting f the Sequoia Dist. YMCA tonight.

The dinner meeting will be held in the cafeteria at Sequoia High School, starting at 6 o'clock.

Members of the board of directors, the members' council, 'Y' leaders, wives and anyone interested in YMCA work are invited to the meeting, according to Kenneth T. Osman, 'Y' executive secretary.

There will be musical numbers during the program.

Besides being a YMCA executive secretary and an industrial arbitrator, Dr. Cullenwood, a former Methodist Church pastor and navy chaplain, is also an author. Among his books are "There's No Place Like Home," and "It Runs in the Family."

New City Hall In Belmont Opened

Belmont city employes Monday were moving filing cabinets and desks into the new Belmont City Hall on Fifth Ave. as city councilmen prepared to put the building into official use by holding a council meeting there tonight.

Workmen on the city hall speeded up the job during the past few weeks so that the city government could move before Jan. 3, the date of an eviction notice delivered to the city last November, ordering the city government out of its present rented quarters on El Camino Real near Ralston Ave.

The new city hall was built by the Huber Construction Co. It was financed by a $50,000 bond issue approved by Belmont voters last year. The building was designed by Architect Arthur Janssen, and includes quarters for the city clerk, building inspector, police department, and a council meeting room.

City officials last month were worried that the building would not be finished by the Jan. 3 deadline and that the city government would be "put out on the street."

Mayor Harry T. Walden, however, announced two weeks ago that work on the building had been speeded up and the city hall would be finished on schedule.

Construction of the new city quarters was started last Spring after a series of conferences between former Mayor James F. Furlong and officials of the Housing Expiditers Office in San Francisco resulted in the government granting the city permission to build the new city hall.

Eleven Injured In Accidents, 1 Near Death

Automobile accidents in the unincorporated parts of San Mateo County over last weekend resulted in injury to 11 persons, four of whom were seriously hurt.

Most seriously injured was Charles L. Stevens, about 45, of 3259 24th St., San Francisco. Stevens was in critical condition in South San Francisco Hospital.

According to the California Highway Patrol, Stevens was crossing El Camino Real from west to east in Lomita Park when he was struck by a car driven by Cesar J. Perez Jr., a bank teller who lives at 805 Winchester Dr., Burlingame.

The accident occurred at Santa Helena Ave. in the pedestrian lane. Witnesses said that Stevens had reached the center of the road when he was hit by the right front fender of Perez' car, which was in the fast lane passing another vehicle which had slowed for the pedestrian.

Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, 36, of Salinas, and Mrs. Nellie Welch, 56, of 2330 Poplar Ave., Palo Alto, were in Palo Alto Hospital as the result of an automobile accident on Bayshore Hwy. at Menalto Ave., East Palo Alto.

Mrs. Johnson suffered cuts about her face and knee, and Mrs. Welch had back and knee injuries. Also injured in the accident was Mrs. Edith Craddock, 37, of Salinas, who was released from the hospital after treatment for shock and bruises.

The accident occurred when the coupe driven by Fred E. Welch, 58, Palo Alto contractor was turning from Menalto Ave. into Bayshore Hwy. and collided with a sedan driven by Jessie C. Johnson, 35, Salinas ranch foreman.

Mrs. Amelia Barrera, 62, of San Francisco, suffered a fractured hip, head injuries for which she was treated at South San Francisco Hospital Saturday evening.

She was a passenger in a car driven by John Barrera, 61, which was involved in a three-car accident on Bayshore Hwy. near Brisbane. Barrera suffered facial cuts and a fractured rib.

The other drivers, James E. Elledge, 24, of Klamath Falls, Ore., and Emile J. Lemoine, 20, of 613 So. Delaware St., San Mateo, were not injured.

Four persons were hurt at 6:40 p. m. Sunday in a headon collision between two cars. The accident occurred on Skyline Blvd. near Sneath Ln. near San Bruno.

Shirley Wightman, 22, of Sharp Park, one of the drivers, suffered cuts about the leg, and Edward C. Mortensen, 46, Millbrae, the other driver, head and chest injuries. They were treated at South San Francisco Hospital and released.

The other two injured in the accident today still were in the hospital. They are Jerry Mortensen, 6, who suffered a concussion and Fay S. Zarbell, 70, Millbrae, who had cuts about the head and legs.

Dr. Marks to Replace Gans Temporarily As Health Director

Dr. Harold Marks, superintendent of Community Hospital, Monday was named acting county health director to succeed Dr. Charles C. Gans, who leaves his desk Saturday noon.

Dr. Marks was appointed by County Executive Frederick Peterson. He will serve until a permanent health director is selected through the civil service process, expected to be about Feb. 15.

Peterson, in selecting Dr. Marks, overrode the wishes of Dr. Gans, who earlier had said that he wanted Dr. James O. Greenwell, superintendent at Canyon Sanatorium, to take over the interim job. Dr. Greenwell is the senior doctor in county service, in the point of service.

Dr. Marks is to run the health department from his desk at Community Hospital, Peterson declared. There will be no additional pay for the work.

The biggest job facing the acting health director will be the drawing of the budget for 1948-49, a preliminary estimate of which must be given to Peterson and the controller during the time he will be performing dual jobs.

Applications for the position of health director now total between 40 and 50, according to Personnel Dir. Russell J. Cooney. The deadline for applications is Jan. 15, after which an assimilated examination will be given candidates.

Dr. Marks said that he intends to file an application for the health director's post.

Dr. Gans will retire officially at the end of February, but intends to leave on accumulated vacation time and leave without pay. He said he would report for work as Santa Cruz County health consultant Monday.

In leaving, Dr. Gans brings to close a series of acrimonious feuds between him and Peterson. The high spot in the interdepartmental battles came when Peterson fired Dr. Gans.

The doctor, after appealing to the civil service commission, was reinstated in his job with back pay, and since has held the position as a hold-over employe, with Peterson each year pointedly failing to reappoint him.

As the retirement of Dr. Gans drew near, the civil service commission reviewed the specifications and raised the salary for the position to a range of $12,000 to $15,000. The nationwide advertising campaign for a new director brought a flood of inquiries and applications.

Driver Arrested On Drunk Charge

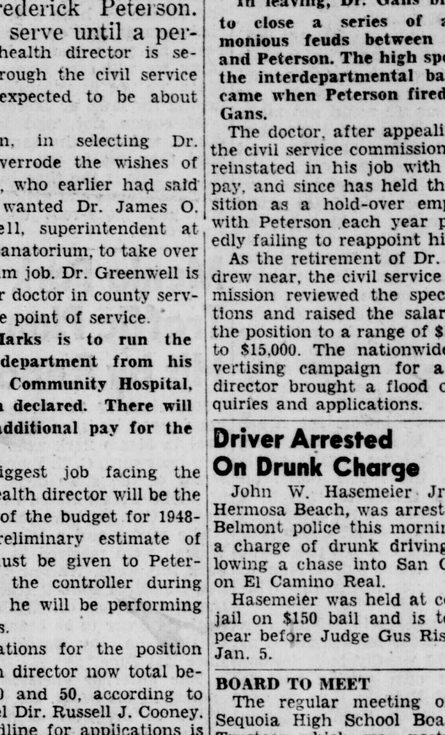

John W. Hasemeier Jr., 21, Hermosa Beach, was arrested by Belmont police this morning on a charge of drunk driving following a chase into San Carlos on El Camino Real.

Hasemeier was held at county jail on $150 bail and is to appear before Judge Gus Risso on Jan. 5.

HORSEPOWER

Electricity comes flowing down the high lines as untamed bulk power at 220,000 volts. It surges into substations in an endless stampede of electrical horsepower. There it is converted, transformed and switched into our widspread distribution network, tamed and usable.

At 240 to 2400 volts it runs great motors in shops and factories; operates irrigation pumps—turns wheels of industry everywhere in the area we serve.

At 110 volts it lights lamps, energizes and runs clocks with a mere trickle of electricity.

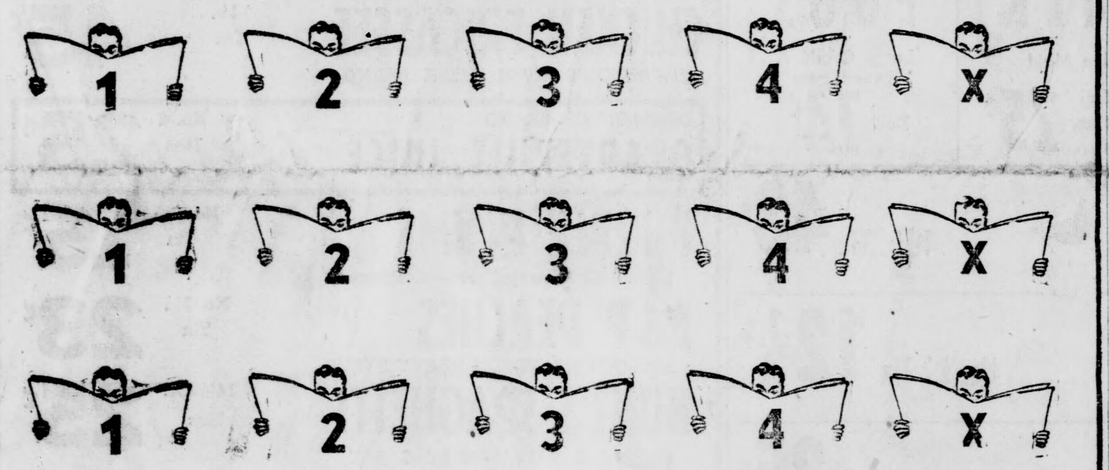

From one end of its vast interconnected system to the other, this Company is building new giant substations and enlarging present installations.

We are moving as fast as complicated switching equipment and banks of transformers can be made ready, delivered and installed.

What we are doing represents an expenditure of more than Sixty Million Dollars—$60,000,000 for the construction and improvement of substations that will control and handle the 1,000,000 additional horsepower destined for distribution throughout Northern and Central California.

GARDEN: Greenthumbers 'Give' With the Testimonials

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

For some it's going to take several days of practice resolving to come up with a bona fide resolution to grow an honest-to-goodness Freedom Garden in 1948. Well, have at your practice and here's some testimonial help. (Advertisers says there's nothing like a good testimonial to hook you.)

You, too, can be a more successful citizen! It's a financial boost — having your own vegetable garden! You won't be sorry — you'll live to thank us! Just read this from Mrs. H. K. Freeman of Oakland:

"We have had a vegetable garden for 18 years. The food is much better than any you could buy, and is such a saving on money that we could not make ends meet if we didn't grow our own vegetables, berries and chickens and some fruit.

"Our fruit trees are young, so we have not had large crops from them, but the berries make up for the fruit trees as a dessert dish. We have Boysen, young and raspberries (new plants). The fruit trees gave enough for a couple of cobblers and some for eating fresh with cream. We have now planted two orange trees. (We left a couple of oranges on each tree by mistake, but what a thrill to see them grow!), a nice lemon tree, it has dozens of lemons on this year, three apple trees (one is espaliered on the house wall), an apricot, a strawberry peach, a Bing cherry and a tartarian, and last year we planted a new pear tree. The old one got the blight and so it came out. I plan to put another apricot in this Winter.

"We are going to eat our own fresh tomatoes for Christmas as usual. We usually have lettuce from our own garden but we didn't get it in in time so will have to buy it. Onions, carrots and celery are doing well.

"We had a baby girl born to us last year, and I didn't do my share of gardening, and my husban didn't have time, so we don't have our usual supply of broccoli and cauliflower. But he planted peas and the cabbage will be ready in the Spring.

"We can our string beans every year, and tomatoes if we do not eat all of them.

"Everyone around here has his own garden and nearly everyone has fruit trees and chickens. . . . Pearson tomatoes do very well for us. We have squash of every kind and like them very much.

"The only vegetable we have trouble with is turnips. I think we have too much fresh fertilizer on the ground." (That could do it.)

"The parsnips surpass any you could buy and beans are a must with our family every year.

"We like to eat kohlrabi raw. We have our own parsley bed which grows enough for six families. It is a border bed, and is very decorative all year long.

"We tried something new to us this year. A garden club member said that carrots should be planted in May for the whole year's supply. We found it is true. Those we planted before and after May did not grow at all. We are eating the May-planted ones and they are grand — nice size and good texture. And so inexpensive when carrots are 12 to 15 cents a pound or bunch." (Most greenthumbers ARE able to grow carrots planted in other months, however.)

"Our family consists of four adults and two 'teen-age boys and the baby. Our health has been better since we eat fresh vegetables, and the children are the most healthy boys in a neighborhood of a dozen or more.

"I forgot to mention Swiss chard and spinach. We seldom grow spinach although we like it once in a while. We do have Swiss chard often and like it as much as spinach.

"We always have at least two plantings of corn. Last year, three. It isn't worth the money in the stores. We have a few artichoke plants, and enjoy our own beets all year 'round. Do you think we will ever give up the space we use in vegetable gardening for lawn or flowers?"

Of course not, and lots of others will feel the same way, once they get in the swing of it. . . . This is the time to plant your asparagus and artichokes—and your bare-root deciduous fruit trees.

Menlo Park Traffic Plan Hit by Report

Reduction of the 35-mile-an-hour speed limit on El Camino Real in Menlo Park would be a step backward, C. H. Purcell, director of the state department of public works, stated in a report to Gov. Earl Warren.

The report and a letter from Warren were received in Menlo Park this week. Warren said he had consulted Purcell regarding the speed zones on El Camino Real "in order to be brought up to date on any developments since last June."

The governor enclosed the report in his letter. He wrote, "One of my keenest desires since becoming governor has been to improve traffic conditions throughout the state, and I want to assure you of my continued efforts in greater safety conditions for pedestrians and motorists."

Purcell states that nothing has happened to change his opinion that traffic conditions have improved since the 35-mile zone was established May 13, 1946.

"At the same time," the report continues, "it is recognized further provisions must be made for the orderly and safe movements of traffic on El Camino Real. At present, the state division of highways is studying a progressive traffic signal system that will control more positively the flow of traffic along the route."

Sampson Gets Council Post In Belmont

James Sampson, 714 Alameda de las Pulgas, was appointed to the Belmont City Council this week, replacing W. C. Bartlett who resigned last month because of illness.

Sampson will also replace Bartlett as head of the city's police commission, which during the past year has completely reorganized the Belmont Police Dept.

The council unanimously approved Sampson to fill the vacancy. No other names were brought up at the meeting.

The new councilman is a San Francisco merchandising broker and has lived in Belmont since 1940. The council seat is the first political office he has held in Belmont.

At present three of the five members of the council have been appointed within the past four months, while only Mayor Harry T. Walden has been elected to the post. All five councilmen come up for reelection next April.

Hudson Stop Signs Installed by City

Stop signs have been installed along streets running into Hudson St. during the past week.

The Redwood City City Council, on the recommendation of the traffic and safety commission, has ruled that Hudson between Woodside Rd. and Jefferson Ave. shall be an arterial.

Sloss' Estate Filed for Probate

Leon Sloss, Jr., prominent Woodside resident, who died a week ago, left 2 per cent of his estate to Stanford University, according to a will filed for probate in superior court today.

Sloss, a member of a pioneer San Francisco family, left the income from his property to his widow, Mrs. Eleanor F. Sloss, Albion Road, Woodside, and the residue of the estate to his son, Leon, of Woodside; brother Louis, and brother-in-law, Mortimer Fleishhacker, both of San Francisco.

The estate was valued in excess of $10,000.

Mrs. Helen M. Bennett, of Woodside, filed a petition for special letters of administration in the estate of George E. Bennett, who died Saturday. The estate included real estate in Alameda and San Francisco counties, and the E. W. Bennett and Co., manufacturer of "Brilliantshine."

The entire estate of Alex Horr who died last Oct. 24 in Brisbane was left to the widow, Louise, 665 San Bruno Ave., Brisbane. The estate was valued in excess of $10,000, according to a petition for probate of the will, filed today.

Belmont Sets Election On Recreation Bonds

Preliminary resolutions calling for a $99,000 special recreation bond issue next Feb. 3 were passed without opposition last Week by the Belmont City Council.

The council took the action following the reading of a letter from the Belmont Recreation Commission asking the council to put the bond issue before voters and outlining the plan to purchase the Pullman estate on Ralston Ave. and Coronet St., and convert it into a recreation center.

According to the plan, the property would be purchased for $60,000. Mayor Harry T. Walden pointed out that Lloyd Taft of the Belmont Civic Assn. had obtained an option on the property.

The remaining $39,000 would be used to construct a tennis court and parking area, repair buildings on the 10-acre site, and provide funds for furnishings and sanitary equipment.

Walden said that the council and recreation commission had held a closed meeting Sunday morning to discuss the project and had instructed City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy to draw up the necessary resolutions and ordinances.

A special council meeting will be held this afternoon to introduce an ordinance calling for the election.

"This is the first good sound recreation program presented to Belmont," Walden declared, "and the council has agreed to cooperate in the project in every way."

A petition signed by 139 Belmont residents approving the proposed bond issue was presented to the council.

The council last night approved a recommendation of the Belmont Planning Commission to grant Thomas Mitchell of San Francisco a use permit to convert the Belle Monti Country Club into an apartment house.

Mitchell last Spring purchased the country club and asked the council for permission to turn the building into a night club. The request was denied. According to plans presented to the council, the building would be remodeled to make 21 apartments.

The council also:

Heard a report that permits for construction totaling $221,298 had been granted during November.

Adopted an ordinance regulating dogs and dog licensing in the city.

Passed a resolution directing the building inspector to withhold building permits in areas with unimproved streets, until the owners agreed to pave the shoulders and provide off-street parking.

Discussed introducing an ordinance regulating the height of fences in Belmont but postponed action until the January meeting.

Directed the city attorney and City Engineer Robert Klassen to start proceedings to install sewers in the part of the Belle Monti subdivision on Cipriani Ave., Ponce St., and Monsarat Ave.

Annexation Would Up Taxes

Should Kensington Square residents vote Dec. 30 to become annexed to Redwood City, their city taxes will run between $35 and $40 a year, City Assessor John J. Brophy predicted this week.

Brophy made his estimate at a city hall session to which area residents were invited.

City Engineer Glenn M. Jain said that if after annexation, the residents want streets, curbs, gutters, sidewalks installed, it would cost them approximately from $8 to $10 per front foot for such work. He pointed out that his estimates were merely approximations because he has not had time to work out complete surveys of the area.

However, if his $10 per front estimate should prove correct, it would mean that it would cost the owner of a lot with a 50 foot frontage, $500 to have the streets and sewer work accomplished.

School Aid Bills Slated For Solons

SACRAMENTO (AP) — At least two major issues of an emergency nature—housing for farm workers and additional money for impoverished school districts—must be considered by the California legislature at its March budget session, Governor Warren declared last week.

Warren told his press conference the matter of housing for farm workers is "definitely a legislative question." He pointed out that the citrus industry in Southern California is having difficulties in recruiting labor because of lack of housing, while at the same time there is a surplus of approximately 53,000 workers in the Kern County area where the cotton harvest has just ended.

Most of these surplus workers are in family groups and the only housing available in the citrus area is for single workers, he said.

The governor said he is going to recommend to the legislature appropriation of additional funds for the poorer school districts.

The 1947 session appropriated $30,000,000 for this purpose, but Warren cut the amount to $20,000,000, stating at the time he was making the slash to keep expenditures within the limit of state revenues.

The governor said he has not decided how much additional funds he will ask the legislature to appropriate, but that it will be "at least $10,000,000."

Yesterday the State Allocating Board postponed indefinitely action on requests from 42 school districts for a total of $14,316,978 for projects involving school construction after members of the State Department of Education reported applications were coming in in a steady stream from school districts and that they expected to have an eventual total of some 350 requests involving $200,000,000. The board said it would take no action until it had all requests in and had made a survey as to actual needs, impoverishment, hardship, etc.

new telephone rates

New telephone rates will go into effect with the next telephone bills, beginning with those dated January 1, 1948. Increased costs reduced the earnings of this business in California to a point far below even the minimum generally conceded as necessary. These rates were approved by the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California on an interim basis after extensive hearings in the eleven-month period which has elapsed since the filing of our application in February, 1947. The rates, to be in effect in the interim, until final rates can be established, are essential in order that our ability to provide the service the public demands be not impaired.

In asking our customers to pay more for service, we are not seeking large profits. Our policy with respect to earnings and service will continue to be: to render an ever-improving telephone service at a cost as low as is consistent with financial safety and fair treatment to employees.

News of Commuters

BY LOCOMOTIVE BILL

As 1947 draws to a close Loco deems the time appropriate to look into the crystal ball and do some prognosticating of things to come during the new year.

We see first, the state public utilities commission granting the request of the Southern Pacific Co. for increased commutation fares in the amount asked for; second, at least three and possibly four new councilmen will be elected at the city election early in April; third, Councilman Carl Britschgi will be appointed Mayor of Redwood City by the newly elected city council; fourth, a shakeup will occur in the present administration of the Sequoia Union High School prior to the submission of a $900,000 bond issue to the voters for necessary improvements; fifth, Sequoia Union High School will open its tennis courts and other recreational facilities to the public; sixth, the elementary school district bonds will be approved by the voters; seventh, McKinley School will construct new tennis courts on the school grounds which will be open to the public; eighth, the special committee appointed by Mayor Hilton to study the 1944 bond issue will recommend that for legal reasons no attempt be made to resubmit the bond issue to the voters but that instead a new bond issue be submitted to the people for the financing of improvements not provided for in the 1944 bond act; ninth, new parking facilities will be provided for commuters at Butcher Field across from the railway tracks; tenth, a free pickup service for garden cuttings will be provided by the city; eleventh, important progress will be made in carrying out the projects provided for in the 1944 bond issue; twelveth, Redwood City will record the greatest advance in recreation in all of its history; thirteenth, construction will begin on the new hospital; fourteenth, City Manager Rolison will retain his position during 1948.

On the day before Christmas 50 commuters gathered at the Redwood City depot to greet Santa Claus in the person of Tommy Cutting arriving on the 7:28 a.m. train from San Francisco. Santa escorted his followers to the last car on the train appropriately fitted for the occassion. Al Mueller with his accordion provided music for Christmas carols and dancing.

The egg-nogs and coffee served the commuters were provided by the Redwood City Commuters Club and its House Committee Chairman Duke Martin ably assisted by mixologists George Raubinger, Jack Welch and a few others of more or less sampling ability.

On arrival of the Christmas train in San Francisco Santa Claus Cutting led a serpentine around the Southern Pacific depot to the music of Jingle Bells much to the amusement of other Peninsula commuters.

This second annual Redwood City commuter party is rapidly becoming an institution thanks to the friendly railroad, the Southern Pacific Co., whose fine cooperation makes these parties possible. Commuters and railroads may battle over fare increases but come Christmas time all is forgotten for the holiday.

PERSONALS: Wrex Cruse, the first president of the Redwood City Commuters Club has been appointed to an executive position by the Pan American Airways with headquarters in the Hawaiian Islands. . . . Congratulations and best wishes to you Wrex. . . . George McGaffigan, well-known commuter and insurance executive, has moved into a new home which he built in Edgewood Park. . . . "Brocky" Brockway is another executive who moved into a new home during the week in San Carlos. . . . Gene Hoffman has left on the President Cleveland for a six weeks' trip to the Orient. . . . Missing the train party on the day before Christmas were Gene Hoffman, Elmer Ross and Roy Fredlund. . . . All three gents did the one-hundred dash after the train but missed by a whisker. . . . fell down or something. . . . Could be they are getting a little feeble. . . . Three other specially invited guests, noted for their caroling ability, James Gillespie, Sam Shotwell and George McGaffigan also missed the train allegedly due to an early morning church rehearsal. . . . Paul Allen, Cecil Campbell and Al Armitage carolers of some note replaced them. . . . Tony Doolin, the commuters railroad expert, looked after a slight steam difficulty on the rear end of the party car.

The Board of Directors of the Commuters Club holds its regular monthly meeting tomorrow at the home of Cecil Campbell. The regular membership meeting will be held at the Three Owls Cafe on Thursday, Jan. 8. Frank Griffin of Sequoia High School, traveler and lecturer will speak.

Seek Patient In Threat To Slay Kin

A tight security guard was put on a Woodside home today by the sheriff's office in an attempt to frustrate the avowed intention of a dangerous mental patient to kill his stepmother.

Deputy sheriffs and Woodside patrolmen were making minute-checks of the home where the mental patient was believed heading after a Christmas Eve escape from a Compton sanitarium.

The security guard was coupled with a statewide search launched by police authorities who feared that the 29-year-old man may kill someone on his way to Woodside.

Dep. Sheriff William Schade said that radio bulletins were flashed to all police departments and sheriff's officers. The escapee was described as 5 foot 11 inches tall, weighing 150 pounds, and was believed to be wearing a gray jacket and pants.

The radio bulletin described the mental patient as possibly homicidal or suicidal, linked with warnings that he may attempt to attack women.

Schade said that he had been informed that the man had expressed a threat to kill his stepmother. The deputy sheriff said that the usual course of action of such mental patients is to remain quiet until he could carry out his fixed purpose.

RC Yule Tree Fire Causes $1000 Loss

A Christmas decorations fire caused an estimated $1000 worth of damage to the home of Ralph H. Hallett, 363 Fulton St., yesterday afternoon.

The fire, reported at 4:49 p.m., started when cotton decorations on a mantel were ignited by fireplace sparks. The flames quickly spread to a Christmas tree and then ruined two walls in the Hallett living room.

Fire Insp. Richard Drivon warned other householders to be particularly careful of their trees now. Such trees, he explained, are even more inflammable now that they have dried out than they were when first purchased.

Stolen Equipment Recovered Here

Two saddles and bridles stolen from the tack room of George Andrews, 3531 Middlefield Rd., were recovered yesterday under a pile of wood on adjoining property, the sheriff's office reported.

Faber's Widow Asks $50,600

The widow of Peter G. Faber, East Palo Alto dairy rancher who died as a result of an automobile accident, today filed suit in superior court here for $50,600 damages.

The suit was filed against Marshall Gibbs, San Jose, who was driving the car with which Mr. Faber's automobile collided last Dec. 22. The accident occured on Bayshore Hwy. near 5th Ave., Friendly Acres, and Mr. Faber died on Feb. 8.

Also named defendants in the suit are Josephine Carlson, Henry, Lawrence and Aileen Faber, Mr. Faber's heirs at law who have refused to join in the complaint.

Mrs. Iva F. Faber, the widow and administratrix of the estate, was named three days ago in a $150,000 suit filed by Gibbs.

Swing at Chief Costs Man $100

Police Judge W. H. Thorpe fined Wick that much after the defendant had pleaded guilty to a charge of assault. He was arrested Dec. 24, on charges of drunkenness and assault at the police station.

Police had earlier impounded his car on the basis that he was too full of Christmas cheer to drive. He later demanded the car's return. When he failed to get it he took his swing and missed and spent some time in the San Mateo County jail.

RC Woman Hurt In Accident Here

Mrs. Daniel Asher, 68, 646 Jefferson Ave., suffered minor injuries in an automobile accident yesterday at Bayshore Hwy. and Harbor Blvd.

Police Lt. S. D. Wood said she was riding in a car driven by her husband at 1:27 p.m. when it became involved in an accident with a car driven by Nils V. Ingemansson, 28, 116 Durham St., San Francisco. Ingemansson was traveling north on the highway which the Ashers were attempting to cross.

Mrs. Asher was treated and released from Community Hospital.

150 Convene For Food Co. Parley Here

More than 150 salesmen from all over California, department heads from San Francisco and key personnel from Seattle and Portland S&W Fine Foods were attending a one-day convention at the local plant here today.

Sales plans for the coming year were being outlined and the personnel was given a chance to see the manufacturing plant here in operation.

Among the speakers today were T. A. Rhorabough, local plant manager; J. Lichtig, general sales manager; Joe Blumlein, vice president and director; and Russell Kramer, assistant sales manager in charge of institutional business.

Adrien Falk, president of the firm, was to speak later this afternoon.

The Southern Pacific Co. Coaster stopped in Redwood City this morning—one of the few times it has ever stopped here—to let off S&W personnel for the convention.

Asks Aid in Search For Missing Kin

A Michigan man who lost contact with his family when he went to France two years ago asked the sheriff's office for help in locating his mother, a former Redwood City resident.

Larry Kesterson of Pittsford, Mich., wrote that he has not heard from his mother, Mrs. Nellie Kesterson for two years. Her last known addres was 1316 Middlefield Rd.

Kesterson listed three San Mateo residents who were friendly with Mrs. Kesterson. The sheriff's office today was checking the list but had been unable to find trace of the missing woman.

Wisnom Estate Nears ½ Million

The estate of the late David Wisnom, executive vice president of the National Bank of San Mateo, today was appraised at $466,555.

The inventory of Mr. Wisnom's estate was filed in superior court by Inheritance Tax Appraiser James A. Lee.

The principal part of the estate is a block of 524 shares of capital stock in the San Mateo Bank, valued at $327,500. The remainder includes 142 shares of capital stock in the Wisnom Co., having a value of $92,431; and Mr. Wisnom's home at 923 Hayne Rd., Hillsborough, valued at $30,000.

Mr. Wisnom died Aug. 23. The principal beneficiary under his will is the widow, Mrs. Grace Wisnom, who also was named executrix.

Mercury Ties Seasonal Low

The local weather station reported today that the mercury last night crawled down to 29 degrees above zero to equal the seasonal low for the season set Nov. 22.

No relief was predicted by the weatherman who ventured that there would be continued cold tonight in the Bay Area.
